

Peavey's comprehensive broad range of over-the-counter speaker components offer both the sound professional and the working musician an extensive assortment of quality components. From the Low Rider™ sub woofers, with incredible power handling capacity and impressive bass response to the steadfast Black Widow® and BWX™ speakers with replacement basket assemblies, the Peavey line of speaker components is consistent and innovative. Think it might be difficult to make up your mind what components to choose for your application? To help make the selection process a little bit easier, we have provided a product reference chart and a detailed specification parameters on the entire line of over-the-counter speakers.

Field-replacement baskets are a standard feature of our Low Rider™, Black Widow® and BWX™ speakers. It takes as little as five minutes to change out a Peavey designed and approved replacement basket and you are back in business. If you ever get a speaker re-coned from other companies, it can be a rough experience. First you have to find a box and ship the speaker back to the company then wait 6-8 weeks to get it back. And the speaker may never sound the same.

Only Peavey Speakers are made with the precise tolerances required for field replacement.
