EMERSON NETWORK POWER

What's the current load on your circuit? What's the voltage? Is the generator operating at the right frequency? By the way, what time is it?

No longer a need to wonder. The RM-115 provides all this information on an easy to read front panel LCD meter. The meter reports volts, amps, watts, frequency, power factor, power consumption (KWH) and even time of day - valuable information in situations involving dynamic loads or questionable power quality. In addition, LEDs indicate power on, properly attached ground and continuing AC surge protection.

The RM-115 is also a great power conditioner, providing 40,000 amps of surge protection and up to 60dB of AC line noise filtration. This product is particularly useful for rental or live sound systems where its value comes from a combination of protection and practical features.

Ten outlets on the back and two on the front. Includes switch cover to prevent accidental turn on or off. Comes with 15 foot power cord. Also available in 20 amp (RM-120).
