Tom Curran about Vocas matte box MB 435:

The very first thing I would like to say that its build to a very high quality, but at the same time they managed to keep it very light weight. The Vocas MB-435 had a very interesting internal top and bottom eyebrow system that is built-in the matte box! (also available on the MB-255 and MB-455, red.)

For more information about adapter rings, please see the backside of this folder.

This was perfect for fast twist to block out an annoying flare, especially when time was against us to get the shot. It was extremely flexible and helped me to solve problems very quickly instead of having to place top flags or black tape to cover the flares and glares. In my opinion every professional cameraman needs a matte box and the best choice will be one of the Vocas matte boxes with integrated 'eyebrows'. (patented by Vocas, red.)

To use either the MB-435 or MB-455 on 15 mm LW rails and to enable easy lens changes these brackets are needed.
