SR69 Vocal Microphone and more

Please consider Earthworks new SR69. Specs alone can not convey the quality of their sound. When you hear it you will understand. No picture can fully represent their appearance. When you see the SR69 you will know. The colors are stunning, especially the Crimson 69. When you hold it in your hand you will feel the elegance and the quality of workmanship. This is a powerful tool!

As a vocal microphone the SR69 is spectacular. It accurately captures voice with just a bit of bass warmth available if you need it but no presence peak. It offers clean easy to use on-axis pick up and uncolored off-axis rejection. It is well protected from all popping of P's and has low handling noise. It sounds great. As with other Earthworks mics you will need to use less eq because what is there is all there and it is done right.

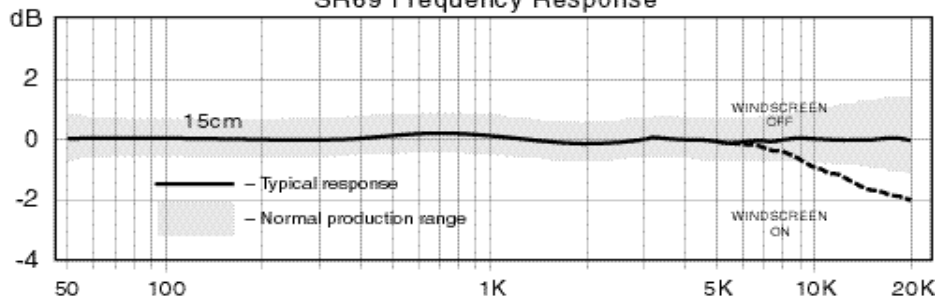

Its superb performance makes the SR69 a good choice for many other live sound and studio applications as well. It covers a wide range of real acoustic sources, like choir, guitars, horns, flute and especially, drums and other percussion. The SR69 will cleanly handle kick drum. For hand drums alone every stage and every studio will benefit from using the SR69.

The SR69 is also a powerful tool for communications, such as radio, churches and civic meetings. It allows the orator more freedom of movement and the system operator more reach and control than most mics. The SR69 is a great value.
