Introduction

The R5CE SDI monitoring distribution amplifier provides four equalized, re-clocked and separately buffered serial digital outputs, plus four analog monitoring outputs. One analog output is NTSC/PAL. The other three analog outputs are configurable to a wide variety of formats, including composite, composite and Y/C (S Video), or component—including SMPTE/N10 (YUV), RGB, and true Betacam levels.

In operation, the R5CE automatically configures to 525 or 625 line component digital inputs and then outputs analog NTSC (525, line input), PAL (625 line input) and component analog as determined by DIP switch settings. A PLL jitter filter/memory reduces the effects of SDI jitter on the analog outputs. Another exclusive feature of the R5CE is a 10- to 8-bit dithering circuit that removes contouring in the analog outputs.

The R5CE encodes the full dynamic range of input component video—values below black and above white are not clipped. In the NTSC mode, the 7.5 IRE pedestal can be disabled by an external DIP switch selection. The R5CE also features a PLL filter, which reduces SDI input jitter for stable composite or component analog outputs.

I/O Connections

FR1 and FR2 BNC Connector Assignments, R5CE Card Module

When the R5CE module is installed in an AJA FR1 or FR2 frame, a corresponding group of 9 BNCs on the rear panel then provide I/O for the module. The illustration above shows the connector assignments for both the FR1 and FR2 when used with the R5CE.

User Controls

The user interface for configuring the R5CE and selecting output formats is a 6-position DIP switch at the front of the card. Two LEDs at the front of the card additionally show the type of input present (525 or 625), which happens automatically.

The four outputs labeled SDI Out 1-4 are always serial digital. They are cable-equalized, and reclocked. The "Comp" outputs are format configurable via the S1 and S2 DIP switches. All DIP switch functions are described below under Control Functions.

Installation

Typically, R5CE installation consists of the following:

1. disconnect power from the frame (remove line cord)
2. remove the FR1/FR2 front panel
3. install R5CE card module
4. apply external color black reference at the frame's External Reference BNC
5. replace the FR1/FR2 front panel
6. apply power to the frame by connecting a north american-style power cord from the frame to mains power (90 to 260 VAC)

Instructions for removing the frame front door for module installation is discussed in the FR1/FR2 User Manual.

Warning!

Ensure Mains Power is disconnected before installing the FR1 or FR2 frame R-series modules into the frame, or installing and removing options. If a Mains switch is not provided, the power cord(s) of this equipment provide the means of disconnection. The socket outlet must be installed near the equipment and must be easily accessible.

Warning!

FR2 Dual Power Cord Notice—please read this. To reduce the risk of electrical shock, disconnect both power cords before servicing equipment.

Caution!

The FR1/FR2 front fan door is heavy and is not hinged. Remove with Caution.
